China In Throes Of New Struggle

CANTON, CHINA, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—A crisis in the conflict between northern and southern Chinese troops in Kwangtung province has been reached apparently. Canton is under martial law and the troops of Sun Yat Sen (China leader), have been surrounded by the forces of General Chen Chung Ming at Sheding.

As a result of the chaos which has prevailed in Canton all traffic has been ordered suspended after seven o'clock each night. Piracy and looting are rampant. Hotels and private residences are being searched for supporters of Chen Chung Ming who are promptly shot when found. Many officials are leaving the city.

Sheet Metal Workers Get $150 Per Week

CHICAGO, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Sheet metal workers have taken a position with ladders and puffers in the affluent group of building mechanics. For some unexplained reason they become so scarce in Chicago that they are being paid from $125 to $150 a week and their helpers from $65 to $70, according to Fred W. Armstrong, manager of the citizens' committee to enforce the Laidis wage award.

Disease Existed Long Before Man, Says Dr. Mayo

MINNEAPOLIS, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Disease existed long before man but it has been in only the last twenty years that most of the present methods of preventing disease have developed. Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, said in an address at a mass meeting last night ending preventive disease week.

"The medical profession," the noted surgeon said, "has made as much progress in the last twenty years as in the last twenty centuries."

"Going back to the old fossilized life, we find that animals in prehistoric ages had diseases similar to the types known to man. Types of diseases have left impressions on bones of jaws of fossils."

Dr. Mayo said that time has come when a close relation between diet, hygiene and medicine exists. He said that because the birth rate is high among people who have come to this country from foreign lands it is the duty of the American people to look after not only the health, but the education of the children of the country.

Dr. Mayo said that while cancer is one of the diseases of which people are most afraid, it is largely preventable through education of the people.

France Objects Yielding To Germans

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1923, by The Times.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Where the status of the negotiations between the United States and France to the conference of experts which will make recommendations on the rearmament of Germany is the subject of Secretary Hughes in a report detail as to the progress of the French premier's explanation of the guarantees that he wants.

What the French government has asked for is a specific guarantee that the conference of experts will not ask France to reduce the amount of the German debt as covered in the so-called "A" and "B" bonds, which amount to about six and a half billion dollars. The question of Germany's present capacity to pay which has been the technical stumbling block, has something of far greater importance to the French than appears on the surface.

Mr. Poincare takes the position that the present capacity of Germany to pay her debts is admittedly not as great as it will be and he wants to prevent the making of a report by the conference which will require France to make concessions. The public opinion of France is represented as nervous over the prospect of another conference which like all others preceding might resolve itself into a session of reducing the German debt.

There were assurances in advance that reduction was not to be discussed and that the capacity of Germany to pay was to be determined with an end of compelling German payments in the French would agree.

On the other hand, Premier Poincare is unwilling to take the responsibility of the world of breaking down the Paris treaty in which the United States is a party.

Klan Beaten In Memphis

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The Ku Klux Klan suffered defeat in yesterday's municipal election when the present city commission, including the mayor and four commissioners, were returned to power for a four-year period.

Mr. For Beckett Paine was elected with a majority of approximately 2,500 votes. W. Joe Wood, who had the endorsement of the Klan, ran second, while Lewis T. Fitzhugh, an avowed opponent of the Klan, trailed.

The unofficial vote, as tabulated by the Commercial Appeal, gave Paine, 12,400; Wood, 7,816; and Fitzhugh, 2,417.

Candidates on the Klan ticket were second in the race for commissioner, while the Fitzhugh ticket came third.

Observers saw in the election of Clifford Davis as city judge, the effect of the Klan influence. Davis was elected with a plurality of approximately 2,000 votes. Although he runs as an independent candidate, Davis had the endorsement of the Klan.

Neither of the three factions in the mayoralty contest named a candidate for city judge.

Run On a Kansas Bank

WICHITA, KAN., November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Officers of the Fourth National Bank of Wichita, the second largest in Kansas, were prepared this morning to turn loose a flood of money should there be a run on the bank, which started yesterday after circulation of rumors that the institution's financial condition was unsound.

The Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank members of the local Clearing House Association, Wichita business men and numerous outside banks rushed to the assistance of the Fourth National when the run was at its height, and it was announced last night by Jerome Harrington, vice president, that $2,500,000 in cash would be on hand with the opening of business this morning.

One version of the rumors leading up to the run was that an employee of the bank who had been discharged, circulated statements that the institution's standing had been impaired.

U. S. Will Decline To Take Part In Parley, Paris Believes

PARIS, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The fact that the French ambassador to the United States, M. Jusserand, has requested a delay in publication of Secretary Hughes' declaration regarding the proposed reparations committee is taken here as indicating that the United States will decline to participate in the committee. The chances of its committee organizing consequently are recognized as the slightest.

Boys Becoming Better; Girls Are Backsliding

CHICAGO, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—America's boys are becoming better all the time while the girls between the ages of 12 and 20 are becoming more wayward, according to Mrs. Anna C. Vanwinkle, chief of the women's division of the Department of Police of Washington, D. C., here to study police conditions.

Gay cabaret life, cheap literature are making the majority of American girls unfit to become wives and mothers, Mrs. Vanwinkle said. "Too many women went a career in business away from home," she asserted. "The only career in every girl's life should be the development of a real home."

"Most of the wayward girls turned over to police women come from the middle and rich groups of American families," she said, explaining that poorer families think more of having a good home than dancing and drinking.

Drops Dead At Piano

NEW YORK, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—As he lifted his fingers from the keys of his piano and the last pregnant chords of "The Misère" floated away, death lay a gripping hand upon Richard Nicolsa last night and he toppled from his bench dead.

A brief moment before he felt, the pianist uttered what sounded like a pimple of laughter, too cautious for such a setting, and Selma Segal, the dramatic soprano whose singing he had been accompanying, turned from the door as she was leaving the studio and asked "What amuses you, Maestro?"

When she reached his crumpled form the stroke of apoplexy had subsided and Nicolsa, the intimate and mentor of many great singers and other musical artists of this day, who composed and who conducted, had breathed his last. The late Enrico Caruso was one of his really close friends.

Raiders Swoop Down On Pennsylvania Breweries

WASHINGTON, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Wholesale raids on breweries in Eastern Pennsylvania shut off the supply of beer admitted to be flooding a large part of the east was begun today by prohibition forces.

Reports to Commissioner Haynes from Philadelphia, said twelve breweries were seized early today and that a score would be padlocked before night.

Election Contested

MANSFIELD, O., November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Charges, which if substantiated, may change the result of the close mayoralty election in this city last Tuesday, have been filed with Richland county election officials.

Carl Stander, Democrat, was elected mayor by only 55 votes over Henry Goemann, Republican, according to the unofficial count.

A member of the Republican county committee today complained to the election officials that in one First Ward precinct, two men, not connected with the election board, took charge of the ballot box and ballots cast up to 3:00 p. m. and took them to a back room where they counted the votes.

Should the vote of the precinct in question be thrown out, Republicans say that the result will be changed and that Goemann may be declared the winner.

Knilling And Kahr Quickly End "Putsch"

BERLIN, November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—General Ludendorff and Adolf Hitler, leaders of the Bavarian revolt, have been captured by Federal troops.

An official communique making the announcement says: "The commandant of the building at Munich was taken last afternoon by Reichswehr troops after a struggle during which considerable losses occurred on both sides and Ludendorff and Hitler were arrested."

(By the Associated Press)
The nationalist putsch staged in Munich, capital of Bavaria, by General Ludendorff and Adolf Hitler, has been suppressed and Von Pöschner, named premier by the revolutionists, is under arrest, according to advices through various trustworthy channels.

Ludendorff and Hitler, who last night proclaimed themselves respectively military dictator and chancellor of all Germany, are variously reported to be barricaded in the ministry building in Munich which is being surrounded by troops loyal to the government and to be in flight from Munich. Later it was announced they were captured.

Advices from Berlin and other centers show that Dr. Von Kahr, Bavarian dictator under the Von Knilling regime, and the Reichswehr commander, Von Lossow, ranged themselves against the Ludendorff-Hitler organization and that the coup was confined almost wholly to the Munich brew house in which it was staged.

The intensive activity in Berlin which followed the first news of the outbreak, has died down, according to direct dispatches from the capital, and the situation at mid-forenoon was such that the police guards were withdrawn from the government buildings.

Authoritative information from Munich is scarce, direct telegraphic communication having been suspended, railway traffic stopped, and edicts issued by War Minister Gessler forbidding publication of other than official reports regarding events in Bavaria.

The French government which yesterday gave official warning in Berlin that it would not tolerate establishment of a nationalist military dictatorship, is watching developments closely, and Premier Poincare is morning with his war minister, while the inter-allied council of ambassadors, representing all the allied powers, has been summoned to meet at five o'clock this afternoon to consider the situation.

The revolt had a depressing effect on foreign exchanges in the New York market, new lows for the year being established by demand sterling, Spanish pesetas, Norwegian and Danish kroner and Dutch guilders. French and Belgian francs also dropped sharply. Cotton prices fell off.

The weakness of the Bavarian monarchist uprising caused Crown Prince Rupprecht to refuse to cooperate with Ludendorff and Hitler from the start. Rupprecht, who gained renown during the war as a strategist, apparently saw it was impossible for Bavarian troops to march on Berlin and subdue Prussia on behalf of reactionaries. Rupprecht throughout the world war opposed Ludendorff as a visionary whose plans pointed to disaster. Without Rupprecht's support the Ludendorff camp in the monarchists' interests had to turn to the Hohenzollerns. This is doubtless the reason why so strenuous an effort was made by the reactionaries a few days ago for the Crown Prince's return to Germany.

The refusal of the allies to agree to the left left the Bavarian monarchist without a monarch to put on the throne. This the Ludendorffian movement died a burning.

Adolf Hitler at the start of the revolt declared that the revolution which started in Germany five years ago, has ended, that the Berlin government and President Ebert have been deposed and that Munich would henceforth be the seat of the imperial government.

Panic prevailed in Munich and the troops acted in much severity to prevent disorder.

General opinion was that Civil War in Germany is inevitable, in as much as Hitler had announced that his troops would march against Berlin while imperial troops were to march against Munich in order to recapture that "hot-bed of reaction."

General Von Seeckt had been appointed commander-in-chief of the troops to operate against the Bavarians. All railway traffic ceased and the payment of the Bavarian Reichswehr was stopped.

The Wolf Agency today gave out the text of the speech made at Munich yesterday by Adolf Hitler.

"A government of criminals sitting at Berlin," Hitler said, "is deprived of office, as well as Ebert."

"I propose to take the direction of the provisional government of the German empire until the moment when the treaty which is precipitating Germany into ruin today, has been abolished."

The German National Army, General Ludendorff, takes supreme command of the Reichswehr (national defense).

"We wish to build up an ultra-nationalist confederate state in which Bavaria will have the place due it."

"Tomorrow we will see the constitution of a nationalist government in Germany or it will see its death. There is no middle course."

After Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, had declared that he was taking the direction of the state and that he considered himself administrator of the monarchy, the "criminals" had overthrown five years ago, General Ludendorff said.

"I am going to re-raise the black, white and red flag throughout Germany, including on the Rhine."

The French general staff foresees the necessity for certain military measures to protect the French troops in the Ruhr in the event of grave disorders in Germany or in case there is the menace of an armed movement against the occupation troops.

The first of these measures will be to straighten out the military line in Westphalia, as the Ruhr now forms a sort of square pocket exposed to attack on three sides. This operation would be accomplished by taking strategic positions to the south. Such eventual dispositions of troops could be executed without delay.

If the circumstances should seem to require them, France could easily put in motion 200,000 men. Fifty-five thousand are already in the Ruhr, 55,000 more are in the Rhineland while an additional 50,000 are within easy reach of the frontier.

Large garrisons are stationed at Metz and Strasbourg, smaller ones are all along the Rhine in Alsace, while there are reserves at Belfort, Epinal and Verdun, not far away.

The French high command is not likely to be surprised by any development in Germany that is hostile to France, as its system of intelligence is understood to be most complete.

Klan Mayors Plan Program

YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Klan members met in a sort of a meeting in Youngstown, meeting here last night formulated plans for a campaign to furnish a pipe water supply for the valley, it became known today. The mayors-elect are Charles Scheible, of Youngstown; J. H. Marshall, of Warren; H. F. Johnson, of Struthers, and W. D. Cunningham, of Girard.

Their meeting was attended by C. A. Gunder, Kluge of the Klan, in this district, and it was said the full power of the Klan will be put behind the water project, which has been discussed for many years without much progress.

The mayors-elect also planned a joint police bureau, with exchange of information.

Meanwhile, the controversy over the proposed Klan parade here Saturday night in connection with meeting of Klans, was unchanged. W. A. Williams, defeated candidate for mayor, today urged Mayor W. C. Reese to allow the parade, but the mayor has announced no change in his policy of prohibiting any procession.

The heavies were mighty good these chilly days even if they are somewhat thin from over-exposure. Here's the dope: OHIO—Fair tonight and Saturday. RISING temperature. KENTUCKY—Fair with rising temperature tonight and Saturday. The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 49; low, 24.

FLOYD CALES, N. & W. BRAKEMAN KILLED IN EAST PORTSMOUTH YARDS

Stumbling across a rail as he attempted to dart across a track in front of a cut of moving cars this morning at 10:30 o'clock, Floyd L. Cales, 35, N. & W. yard brakeman, fell and was so badly crushed by two wheels of a car that he died within a few minutes after his almost lifeless form was extricated from between the wheels of one truck. Cales, who lived in Kentucky just below Fullerton, or opposite the foot of Bond street, took a job in the yards as brakeman just a week ago Thursday. He was crushed through the abdomen and pelvis and expired as co-workers were carrying him across the many tracks in the yards to get to the foot of Norfolk street, East Portsmouth, where Lynn's ambulance was waiting to convey him to a hospital. As the man was still breathing they thought that there was still hope of saving his life.

A year ago, Cales, working at the Portsmouth works, Wheeling Steel Corporation suffered a badly injured foot, two toes being amputated. He was in the hospital a long time and after recovering was in such a weakened condition he could not work. About two weeks ago he secured a job at the Portsmouth Refractories plant at East Portsmouth, but after working there only a few days, quit as he could not stand the work which caused further injury to his foot. Several days later he went to work in the N. & W. yards.

Track men of a section crew were working just a few yards away from where the fatal accident occurred. Cales was working on a yard train pulled by Engine No. 876, which was switching cars on tracks near the scrap wharf. The wharf is on the Ohio River bank just above the Portsmouth Golf Club grounds. The scene of the fatal accident was on the time freight lead track or the second track north of the track wharf.

To Cut Off Cars

Cales ran along the side of the train to "cut off" cars to be set in on the different tracks. According to workmen nearby, he had just "cut off" a string of cars which were "kicked off" on one track. There still remained twelve cars ahead of the engine and Cales is thought to have tried to run across the track ahead of the cars still attached to the engine. As he leaped across the track he stumbled and fell across the north rail, within a few inches of the wheels of the leading car. The front wheels of the one truck passed over his body, but before the other truck of the same car reached him the engine and cars were stopped. The sudden stop caused the train to move backwards just far enough for one wheel of the front truck to pass over him again. This left the body wedged between the wheels of the truck. Track laborers ran to the scene, hurriedly secured a jack and raised the truck sufficiently to allow the body to be released. Cales was placed on a stretcher and several workmen carried him to the end of Norfolk street where the ambulance was waiting. Before he was placed in the ambulance it was discovered that Cales had died.

Cornor Virgin Fowler had been notified that the man had been killed outright. He ordered the body removed to a morgue and prepared for burial. Later he visited the scene of the accident in the yards.

The telephone operator at Fullerton was notified and she was asked to convey word to a sister, Mrs. L. E. Anderson, who lives next door to Cales. Mrs. Anderson was at work in the Selby shoe factory and she was notified there. From there she went to the Wallace rooming house on Walnut street, East Portsmouth, where her mother, Mrs. Tobitha Cales was spending the day. Later, relatives notified the wife at her home.

Floyd L. Cales was born in Grayson Carter County, Ky., the son of O. P. and Tobitha Cales. Ever since his marriage about seven years ago to Miss Lillian Rice, he has resided in the vicinity of Portsmouth. At one time the family lived in East Portsmouth. During the greater part of the time, however, they have lived in Kentucky, opposite the city. Several years ago he worked as a switch-tender in the East Portsmouth yards. Surviving are the widow and two children, Edwin and Donald; the mother, who makes her home with a daughter, Mrs. Charles Craycraft of Minford; two brothers, O. P. Cales, of Ironton, and Ballard Cales, address unknown, and three sisters Mrs. L. E. Anderson, of near Fullerton.

Mrs. Charles Craycraft, of near Minford, and Mrs. L. C. Wilson, of Olive Hill, Ky.

The death of Mr. Cales is the third in two months in the Cales family near Fullerton. On September 11, A. J. Anderson, father in law of Mrs. Anderson, died at South Portsmouth. Several weeks ago, Gladys, Cales of Ironton, died. She was a niece of Mrs. Anderson. The accident today claimed the brother of Mrs. Anderson. When the roof was blown off the Beautyville school building South Portsmouth some months ago a son of Mrs. Anderson, was the worst injured.

Mr. Cales had been a member of the J. O. U. A. M. Burial will be in the Mt. Zion, Kentucky, cemetery.

FEELING FINE, STRONG, WELL

Arkansas Lady Writes She Would Not Be Known for the Weak Invalid She Was Before Taking Cardui.

Black Rock, Ark.—On a hill above the Black River near here is the home of Mrs. Nannie Brown, who says that she is glad to tell of what Cardui did for her.

"I wish you could see how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," says Mrs. Brown, warmly. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it."

"At my . . . I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework and just got where I'd most as lief be dead as living."

"Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years, just as a tonic."

"I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three and was able to do my work with ease, and now I save for my family and for others. I am feeling fine and strong and well."

Cardui, during its more than forty years of usefulness, has helped thousands of other women, just as it helped Mrs. Brown. It can be bought at any druggist's. Ask for Cardui.

After a short business session the time was spent socially, a very amusing contest, the chief diversion, with Mrs. Hannah Updegraff and Mrs. Glenn Bierley as the winning contestants. A bountiful repast, in keeping with the Thanksgiving season, was served, after which the members departed for their homes, having spent a most delightful evening.

More than fifty members of the general building committee of Albany church enjoyed the banquet in the basement of the church last night at 6:30, a splendid dinner being served by the women of the Liberty Street school class. During the meeting everyone present was given an opportunity to express his view on the new church project and everyone gave it hearty approval. The proposed plans call for an expenditure of $80,000 in the rebuilding of the church. No architect has been selected. The many thoughtful services of our friends during the sickness and death of Mr. Edmund Welch, and especially the ones who took part at the funeral services.

Threaten To Dismiss the Strikers On Virginian

ROANOKE, VA., November 9.—Firemen and engineers of the Virginian Railway who walked out today were threatened with permanent dismissal from service if they do not report for duty by Saturday morning in a telegram dispatched to read officers tonight by C. H. Hix, vice president. Hix said he had been authorized by the Railroad Labor Board to "do anything necessary to continue operation of this road."

It is estimated by railroad officials that between 400 and 500 men quit work involving about two-thirds of the company's engine crews. One hundred per cent tie-up of traffic, except a few passenger trains, was claimed tonight by L. G. Grifing, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Hix reported train schedules were not seriously interfered with and predicted that operations would not be reduced more than 20 per cent.

Stone Is Summoned
CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 9.—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, this afternoon said he received at 9 o'clock this morning a telegram citing him to appear before the United States Railroad Labor Board, November 14, and to retain status quo until disputes between the Virginian of the company's engine crews, Railroad and engineers, who threatened to strike, could be settled. At the same hour, Mr. Stone said, he received word from an official of his organization at Roanoke that a strike of engineers and firemen went into effect at 6 o'clock this morning.

France Warns Germany Against Dictatorship

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the A. P.)—France warned Germany today that this government cannot remain a disinterested spectator in the event of an attempt to establish a military nationalist dictatorship in Berlin.

The representations, presented through the French Ambassador in the German capital, were couched in diplomatic terms but under the polite forms used in such communications aspiring dictators were told to keep their hands off. France has no intention of interfering with Germany's internal affairs, it was said at the foreign office tonight, but a return of the military party to power in Germany would mean the almost certain repudiation of the treaty of Versailles. It is believed here that the opposition of the nationalists to the succeeding German republican governments has been due to what they regarded as the lukewarmness of these governments in their resistance to the execution of the treaty.

The advent of a military dictatorship in Berlin would make useless any more discussion as to the organization of an expert committee to investigate Germany's capacity to pay. It is held here, since the policy of the new regime would probably be absolute repudiation of the reparation debt. Hence, the French government decided upon warning not only as being opportune but necessary.

New Tide Rising.
It is known that Marshal Foch, who is closely watching developments in Germany, has come to the conclusion that a new tide of Pan-Germanism is rising. He has said that there is coming in Germany a nationalist movement comparable with that which followed the downfall of Napoleon, when Prussia was given the post of watchman of the Rhine, and that allies would be stupidly blind if they failed to see and provide for it.

The question has been a subject of discussion among the military advisers to the inter-allied council of ambassadors, but extreme rumors circulated here to the effect that France is arranging to call out two contingents of troops are declared preposterous in official circles.

Keep Ex-Crown Prince Out Of Germany, Allies Request

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(By the A. P.)—The allied council of ambassadors decided today to request the Dutch government not to allow former Crown Prince Frederick William to leave Dutch territory, and also to ask the German government not to allow him to enter German territory. Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and the United States were represented at the meeting of the ambassadors' council at which the resolution with regard to the former crown prince was adopted. Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the American embassy, represented the United States as unofficial observer and took no part in the vote.

In diplomatic circles no secret is made of the fact that the Dutch government would be rather relieved if Frederick William were taken off its hands, but it is expected to comply with the allies' wish and prevent him from crossing the frontier.

The Dutch are understood to have made known to the allies that their responsibility was unsought, that the former crown prince was in their country as a refugee entitled to hospitality and the question of his return to Germany was one for the German government rather than Holland.

DOORN, HOLLAND, November 9.—(By the A. P.)—It was stated today that the Dutch government in conformity with the understanding it has given for the security of the allies, will prevent former Crown Prince Frederick William from going to Germany. Frederick William remains at Wieringen, where he took up his residence when he fled from Germany at the end of the war. Meanwhile former Emperor William is continuing his conferences here with military and political personages, who daily arrive from Germany. Last night a German publicist lectured in Doorn House on the subject of Frederick the Great in the presence of William and his wife, Princess Hermine, and their "court." The lecturer read certain passages which Frederick wrote in French and which the former Kaiser said he enjoyed greatly.

Fire Destroys Big Barn

A one and one-half story frame barn in the rear of the home of Henry Carr, Wilson avenue, Sieterville, was entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour Friday morning, entailing a loss of $350 about $100 of which is represented by the contents of the building, used as a garage and for storage.

The blaze had gained such headway when discovered about three o'clock that the New Boston fire company, which responded to the alarm, was unable to combat the flames with any degree of success. The origin of the fire is unknown but an investigation led officials to believe that it started from a bunch of old paint rags. The Gallia street fire company filled in the New Boston station while the village company was at the fire.

Dear Dolly—When kind of a gown has Ireland and Canada?
SEED.

Ireland is now a Commonwealth. King George signed the proclamation constituting the Irish Free State on December 6, 1922. Canada is a Dominion, and is headed by a Governor-General and Cabinet, much like the same as that of Ireland and Australia.

Dear Dolly—To settle an argument kindly tell me how long the fight between "Tom" Jackson and Harry Williams lasted.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

6 Olive Roberts Barton

THE TWINS MEET MR. ARMADILLO

"Speak a little louder, please. I'm very hard of hearing."

Away down in Dixie Land, the twins came upon an object that looked something like a war-tank, and something like a suit of iron armor. That knights of old used to wear in battle. Only it wasn't any bigger than a parcel-post package.

"What do you suppose it can be?" whispered Nancy, touching it with her foot.

But careful as she was, the object poked a scaly head out from under its hard shell and said sharply out of its sharp nose. "Speak a little louder, please. I'm very hard of hearing."

"Don't you believe it?" called a tiny voice, and there, not far away, the twins saw a little black ant with a red head, standing beside the door of a perfectly enormous ant-hill. "He isn't hard of hearing at all! He's got ears that can hear when anyone sneezes in Ohio!"

"We ants ought to know, for he hears us every time we turn over in bed even though we are in a awful time trying to stay alive, because he eats ants and—"

Nancy put her hands over her ears. "Oh, stop, stop!" she cried. "You talk so much and so fast, little ant, I can't keep up with you."

Without another word the little red-headed ant disappeared.

"I'm glad you put that sassy ant in his place," said Mister Hard-Shell War Tank sharply out of his sharp nose. "They seem to think I have no right whatever to eat them. Why, if all the lizards and mice and bugs in the community felt that way, I would never have a meal at all, so I wouldn't, and dear only knows, if I don't watch my Q's and P's, I'll be gobbled up myself one of these days because, much as I hate to say it, there are plenty of people waiting around to make a lunch off me."

"What is your name, please?" asked Nick. "You are the most curious person I ever saw."

"I'm called Andy Armadillo," answered Mister War-Tank. "Want a ride?"

"Yes!" cried the twins quickly. And they hopped right on.

Along they went, along and along and along, their steady chattering like a photograph every step of the way, when suddenly the twins were dumped off on the ground, kerplump! And Mister Armadillo disappeared like a cent in a slot-machine.

"Where are you? Oh, Mister Armadillo, where did you go?" called Nick.

"I'm down this hole! I'm minding my Q's and P's as I told you. I heard someone coming. Don't wait for me, please."

"Now you know how the ant feels," called Nancy. "Come along, Nick."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES ON GOLD ISLAND

Jack walked a few moments and then flung all of the spear men had passed by. Then he saw slowly out of the kettle. It happened that several warriors were right down in front of the pot and as they saw Jack's head they suddenly dropped down on their knees and started bowing to him.

At first Jack didn't know what to make of it. Then he decided that they thought he was some ghost or something of the kind. They were afraid of me, said Jack to himself. And as he stood there, all of the other natives returned and got down on their knees. Then one arose,

He slowly walked up to the great kettle and cautiously handed Jack his spear. Jack bowed, and then discovered that the spears were not sharp pointed, as they usually are, but had feathers on the ends instead. This made Jack laugh and the natives joined him. (Continued.)

3 KILLED, 3 INJURED WHEN C. & O. ENGINE HITS BIG BUS

Russell, Ky., Scene of Accident; Mrs. Fitzgerald, Formerly of This City, Is Injured; May Die

Three persons were killed and three seriously injured, one of whom may die, Thursday afternoon, near Russell, when C. & O. passenger train No. 3, running 20 minutes late, and at a high rate of speed, plowed its way through one of the big busses the Ironton-Ashland Bus company operate between Ironton and Ashland. The bus was tossed against a nearby brick building and is a mass of twisted steel and iron, a total wreck.

THE DEAD
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lansing, 440 Fayette Court, Lexington, Ky., W. H. Clay, who lives between Huntington and Charleston, W. Va., a bridegroom of two weeks, who was visiting in Ironton.

THE SERIOUSLY INJURED
Mrs. Kate Fitzgerald, 312 Twentieth street, Ashland, Ky., former resident of Portsmouth, O., sister of Mrs. Isabelle Krickler of Fourth street, Portsmouth.

At Marting hospital this morning it was stated that Mrs. Fitzgerald had fallen to regain consciousness and that her condition was extremely serious, owing to her advanced age. Relatives have been summoned to her bedside. Mrs. Fitzgerald was for many years a well known resident of this city.

Fred Hardy, aged 14, who lives between Ashland and Russell, was also reported in a serious condition at Marting hospital today. He was injured internally and suffered a broken leg and arm. He is only conscious at times.

Phillip Pancake, aged 45, driver of the bus, suffered internal injuries and a broken arm. He was reported resting comfortably at his home on Spruce street, Ironton, Thursday.

Pancake says his bus was almost clear of the tracks when the train struck it. He left Ashland on his way to Ironton 20 minutes before the accident. No. 3, which hit the bus, is the New York C. & O. limited and is operated between Cincinnati and New York. It was due at South Portsmouth at 2:10 yesterday, but it was after 4 o'clock when it arrived.

Inquest Held
Squire J. H. Coster of Russell held an inquest today and after several witnesses were examined he rendered a verdict that the deaths of the three victims were accidental. The body of W. H. Clay, who was killed instantly, was today shipped to Minerva, W. Va., where the funeral services and interment will be held.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lansing were shipped today to Lexington, their home. Mr. Lansing was a member of one of the oldest and most wealthy families in Lexington.

The bus was returning to Ironton from Ashland. While Pancake, the driver, has been unconscious practically all of the time since the accident, from what he said, he thought the flier had passed the crossing and was well on the trucks when the engine struck the big truck.

The big bus was struck near the back wheels, carried 200 feet, and hurled, turning over, against a brick building. It was demolished beyond all hope of salvage. Occupants were all thrown in all directions from the bus. Bodies of the dead were almost beyond recognition. Identification was only possible by means of calling cards, bills and other papers found in the pockets of victims, and a tag on a grip belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Lansing. Clay's body was found under the engine three blocks away.

The Lansings were enroute to Ironton to identify a machine which they claimed to be theirs, and which was involved in a law suit. Mrs. Lansing was killed outright. Mr. Lansing lived until two minutes after he had been brought to Marting hospital. Mr. Clay was killed instantly.

At first, reports of the tragedy were greatly exaggerated, the deaths being reported at numbers ranging from five upward. These were cut down as the excitement resulting from the fatal wreck, so close to Russell's business district, began to die down, and rescue workers and undertakers had gotten their work organized.

At an investigation held in the offices of a Russell undertaking firm, it was testified that Engineer Osborn of Corle, who was in charge of the engine, blew his whistle as the train approached the crossing. The engineer stopped the train as soon as possible after the wreck.

Phillip Pancake has been driving a bus between Ironton, Russell and Ashland for some time. Before the days of motor bus travel, Pancake operated a mail wagon and hauled passengers between Ironton and Russell. He has been known to the traveling public for more than thirteen years, and was always regarded as a careful driver.

So completely was the bus demolished that the five passengers known to have been inside it, were dragged at least 100 feet further down the track.

Driver's Story

Phillip Pancake, the driver was brought to the Marting hospital and before lapsing into unconsciousness stated that he had five passengers in the bus at the time of the accident. He conversed with Mr. McGughin, president of the company operating the bus line, but was barely able to give a lucid account of the horrible accident.

One citizen of Russell who claimed to have seen the accident, states that the driver attempted to pass a Ford car and being intent upon this failed to notice the rapidly approaching flier in time to prevent the crash.

Spectators who assisted in recovering the mangled remains of the bodies found a grip bearing the name of Mrs. Paul Lansing, and a lady's purse containing a card bearing the name of Paul Lansing. A grocery statement from a Williamson firm bearing the name of Oliver Cox was also found in the pockets of some of the garments. A letter addressed to W. H. Clay was among the effects found along with parts of the bodies.

Thousands Attracted To Scene
Thousands of people from Ironton and Russell and many from Ashland were attracted to the scene of the wreck. The gruesome spectacle of mangled bodies and the mute evidence of the terrible affair in the wrecked automobile bus held attention until the last of the fragments of the bodies had been picked up and taken in charge by the undertakers.

The clothing had been almost torn off the bodies but two purses of the kind usually carried by women were picked up by persons from among the effects found, scattered along the track.

In some instances the limbs were severed in a half-dozen places. The bus was carried from the crossing to Rice's storage house where it was thrown from the track against the building with its wheels facing the tracks. The bus was completely shattered from end to end, not a single part of it remained intact, and one of the mysteries is how the driver escaped with his life. One version of his escape is that he saw the approaching train in time to jump, escaping with his life.

This crossing has been known as an exceedingly dangerous one and its elimination has been the subject of controversy since the pavement of the county road at that point.

to visit her granddaughter, Martha Purcell, 14, who was operated upon for appendicitis Monday, in Marting hospital.

Relatives Are At Bedside
Mrs. Isabelle Krickler and sons Len and Edmund, of Fourth St., left yesterday for Ironton, having been informed for the serious injury of Mrs. Krickler's sister, Mrs. Kate Fitzgerald, in the bus wreck at Russell yesterday afternoon.

Bridegroom Among Victims

IRONTON, Nov. 9.—(Special to Times)—W. H. Clay who was instantly killed in the bus which was struck by the engine of a C. & O. train at Russell, yesterday afternoon, leaves a bride of two weeks to mourn the loss of her husband.

Mr. Clay, who is a young man in his early twenties, was married two weeks ago to Miss Ada Cox of Williamson, W. Va.

They were spending their honeymoon at the home of Mrs. Clay's sister, Mrs. Ray Mount, in Ironton, and Mr. Clay went to Ashland yesterday on business. As he was returning to his bride, death intervened and the expectant young wife instead of the welcoming arms of her husband, was greeted by the sad news of his death.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION SUNDAY; CANNON TO BOOM

CAPT. MURFIN PLACED IN CHARGE OF U. S. S. CONCORD

The Philadelphia Ledger of local interest recently said:

"You are going to man a ship for which the Navy long has been waiting." Captain M. E. French told the crew of the new scout cruiser, Concord, when she was formally commissioned at the Navy Yard. Naval officers in full dress attended the ceremonies. The ship, which is one of the fastest afloat was received into the navy by Captain French, who is captain of the yard, and by him turned over to Captain O. G. Murfin, who is to command her.

The crew of 224, picked because of their good records, marched from the receiving ship to the new vessel behind the Navy Yard band.

After a two weeks sitting out period, the Concord will set out on her maiden cruise. This "shake-down" cruise is one of the most interesting planned for any ship of the navy. It will include ports in the Mediterranean and the Red Sea. From there the swift cruiser will skim down along the east coast of Africa and stop at Cape Town.

From this southern extremity of the Dark Continent the Concord will cruise to St. Helena, the island where Napoleon was exiled, and then return by way of Brazil and the West Indies.

This cruise is expected to take about three months and will cover approximately 15,000 miles.

Captain Murfin, who is well known in Portsmouth, is a son of the late H. Clay Murfin, and a brother of Dr. J. G. Murfin, of Hutchins street.

France

States has been engaged for the last three years. He thinks some useful things can be done by the conference and he would rather have the United States withdraw—if the parley breaks down—than have France refuse.

Under these circumstances the jockeying back and forth between London and Paris is proceeding with an idea of working out a compromise, but with the knowledge that full publicity probably will be given to the negotiations when once they do break down so that the French and American governments will be judged accordingly.

President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes have felt the pressure from American business interests for the extension of a helpful hand to Europe. They know they must justify before American public opinion any withdrawal or recession from the position adopted at the outset. Premier Poincare on his part must prove to French opinion if he accepts the proposed reduction of German debt. Although the United States insists that the meeting of experts is to be an economic and financial survey of German capacity to pay and that the final acceptance or rejection of its findings rests always with each government concerned, the French concede that any report brought in by the commission will be given wide publicity and if it is to put the French in the position of blocking world peace they want to checkmate such a step in advance by knowing definitely what is or is not to be investigated.

There is some lack of confidence also on the part of the French that after they give time and thought for several weeks or months to the conference of experts the United States government will do anything in the end when the report comes. Having in mind how the United States first signed the Versailles treaty and didn't ratify it, then signed but didn't ratify the three power pact for military aid in case of unprovoked aggression by Germany, the French are doubtful of what good would come of the conference of experts if the United States government maintains an attitude of aloofness. The experts themselves, for instance, are not to represent the United States government and the extent of American aid this far is a suggestion as to the kind of machinery that might be helpful in conference.

France's debt to America and questions of government financing. Germany have been taboos by the government of the United States, which has simply offered to act as intermediaries for American business and banking institutions in the flotation of a new financial plan. Premier Poincare has asked many questions in the hope of getting some governmental assurance from Washington that would enable him to say to French opinion that he has obtained some concrete aid from America. Thus for he hasn't gotten much more than an assurance that if the commission of experts is convened, subsequent steps can be decided upon when their report is finally made.

Did Not Solicit

A Single Vote

C. W. Wilson, Councilman-elect from the First Ward, and John Moeller, elected as one of the three Councilmen-at-Large, were members of the City Council during the administration of former Mayor Adam Frick. Mr. Moeller made a wonderful race, considering the fact that he did not solicit a place on the ticket and did not do any campaign work. Mr. Moeller says that he does not recall asking anyone to vote for him, but now that he has been chosen he will give the city his best efforts.

In Pan-Handle State

CAMDEN-ON-GAULEY, W. VA., Nov. 9.—Two robbers obtained between $4,000 and $5,000 from the Camden National Bank here today after knocking Mr. D. Storton, substitute cashier, into the bank vault at the point of a pistol and imprisoning him there while they made their escape.

Eight or nine charges of explosives were required before the vault door finally yielded, valleys of shots greeted every person that appeared during the holdup and every light that appeared near the bank.

After the bandits had held the town about an hour Joseph Boller, a citizen drove to Humboldt Central, across the Kansas River, and spread the alarm. The robbers escaped.

Testimony Given Against Walton Before the Senate

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Nov. 9.—(By the A. P.)—The trial of Gov. J. C. Walton on impeachment charges brought against him by the House of Representatives was started yesterday before the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment.

The House board of managers, prosecuting the case elected to try the Governor on Article 2 of the bill of impeachment, which charges that the executive placed his personal chauffeur, T. P. Edwards, on the payroll of the State Board of Health.

The testimony given today by witnesses for the prosecution set forth that after Paul Nesbit, state highway commissioner, had refused to place Edwards on his payroll because he thought it would be illegal, Gov. Walton obtained from Dr. A. E. Davenport, health commissioner, his agreement to a plan, by which Edwards drew $200 a month as an employee of the health department.

Adj. Gen. B. H. Markham, the next witness, said Edwards and Homer D. Martin, a guard at the Governor's residence during the recent state-wide martial law regime, were commissioned officers in the national guard, upon written orders of Gov. Walton. He said they drew salaries as such although neither had passed the military examination or subscribed to the required oath.

Dr. Davenport appeared as a witness after a writ of attachment had been issued by the court upon request of the prosecution. He testified that Edwards had been on the health department payroll five months at the request of Gov. Walton. The witness admitted that Edwards had made a report to him.

Gov. Walton entered the Senate chamber promptly on the opening of the trial with Mrs. Walton.

Two bills apparently directed against the Ku Klux Klan were introduced at a brief session of the Senate before it resolved itself into a court of impeachment.

One would force the filing of membership rolls of all secret societies with county clerks and prohibit the wearing of masks.

The other bill which does not name the Klan, would disqualify any person "to serve on a grand jury who is a member of any society or organization whose purposes or objects are the enforcement or the assisting in the enforcement of the law, whose membership is secret."

McMillan Party In Good Health

WINNIPEG, MAN., November 9.—Every member of the Donald B. McMillan expedition party in the Arctic region is in good health and the expedition is not in danger from icebergs, according to a radio message picked up here from the expedition in the North.

"Reports that we have been and are in danger from icebergs are entirely wrong," stated the message. "We are perfectly safe, quite comfortable and all on board the Bowdoin are in good health."

Another message sent from winter quarters 11 degrees from the North Pole stated that Dr. McMillan was optimistic about reaching the Pole before leaving the winter quarters and predicted that the expedition would be a success.

OHIO LABOR LEADER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—John B. Moore of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Federation of Labor, is seriously ill at a local hospital, it became known tonight. Mr. Moore, who has been ailing for almost a year, was taken to the hospital Monday to undergo an operation for cancer.

His condition then became so serious that it was deemed unwise to operate at the present. Prior to becoming president of the State Federation, Mr. Moore was president of the United Mine Workers of Ohio.

France Not Concerned

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Premier Poincaré, replying to the recent German protest against the attitude of the French general, De Metz, in the Bavarian Palatinate, informed Berlin that the French government was entirely unconcerned with preparations for separatist action in either the Palatinate or the Rhine province and would continue to be so.

A semi-official statement announcing receipt of the reply says that it evaded answering the complaint against Gen. De Metz. The German government had especially taken offense at his statement to a representative of Bavaria that the latter no longer had power in the Palatinate.

OUSTER SUIT FAILS

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 9.—The suit to oust Mayor Fred Kohler from office on charges of malfeasance, was dismissed by Probate Judge Alexander Hadden late today when he upheld a demurrer filed by Acting Law Director Carl F. Schuler. The charges are the outgrowth of a controversy which resulted over the erection of billboards bearing the Mayor's slogans on park property.

Bandits Stage Robbery In Regular Wild West Style

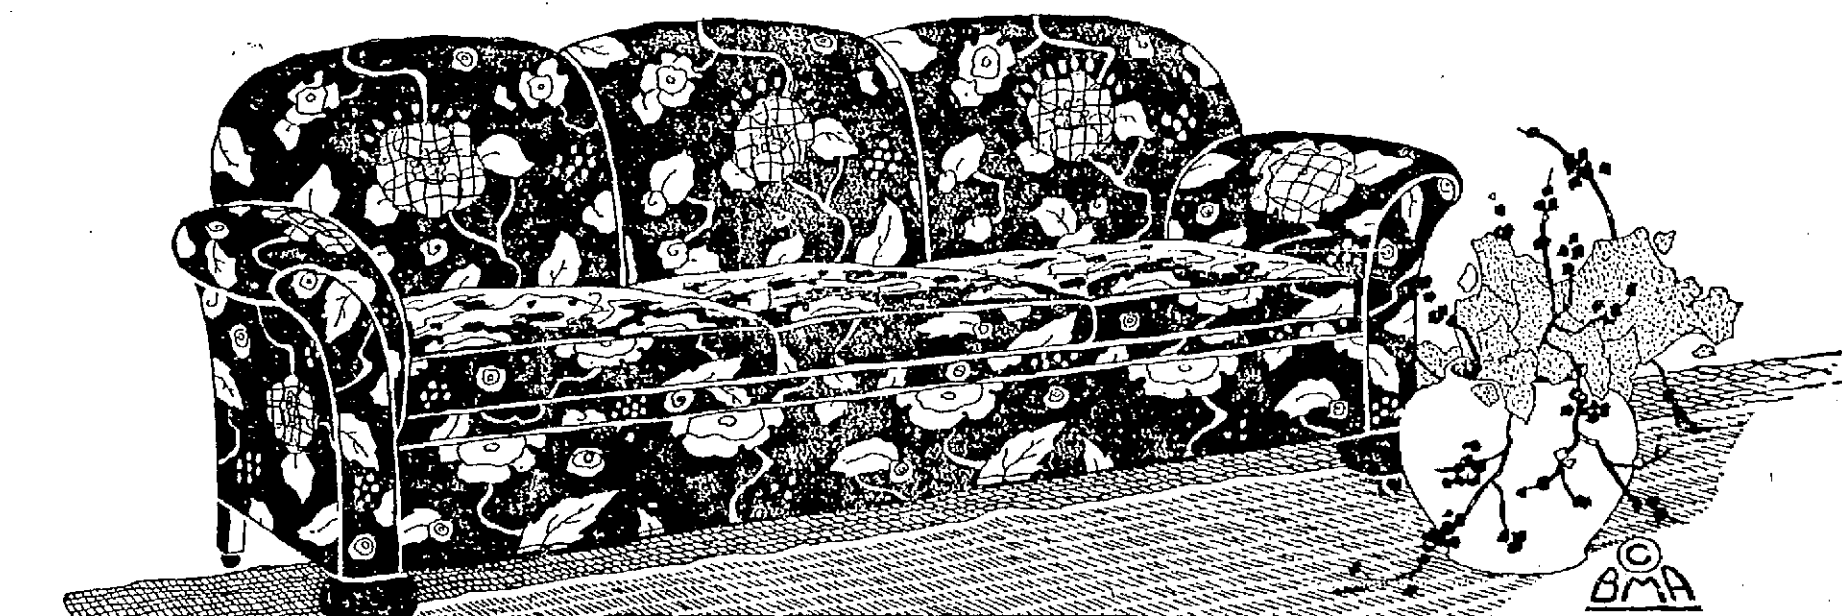

OGDEN, KAN., Nov. 9.—Eight or 10 bandits in Wild West fashion held this town of 500 inhabitants at bay for two hours early today while they blasted their way through the floor of the vault in the Ogden State Bank.

Guards stationed outside the bank kept up a heavy fire until their companions gained access to the vault and looted it.

Then, shouting decisively, the bandit gang shot up the town as they walked to their two motor cars on

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Clare Jewett, in love with the Rev. Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. The marriage is dissolved from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons.

A delegation of strikers comes north to interview the president and directors. An agreement which Gilchrist drew up for the miners is shown to Goodkind and Daniel gives the migrants 24 hours in which to sign.

"Overcoat Hall," a refuge for the unemployed, is established by Gilchrist, and apartments with baths for the poor are maintained at a minimum.

George Goodkind quits at the hall.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"That's what I wanted to ask you. I'm in need of money and my father—"

"Your father understood you well enough to leave you only five dollars. I foolishly turned over some principal to you and you threw away $10,000. You could have had a big salary and you threw that away. You're an utter dummel waster—if you're no worse."

"What do you mean—worse?" Daniel asked with a frown.

"You'll find out what I mean. You've had my son's wife down here, haven't you?"

"Once or twice."

"Or three times—or a dozen. He knows."

"I've asked her not to come again. And he's asked her—but she comes when she likes. She's at law with you."

"God knows what women are in your kind of a man. There was Pearl Herring."

"Pearl?" Gilchrist lifted a hand in protest.

"Oh, my son told me," continued Goodkind. "And I hear—in the neighborhood—that you're worse women than that running here. Women of the streets."

"Not many," said Daniel calmly. "There's welcome but they don't come."

"Well, that's your business. And if your neighbors get sick of having a report of this kind in their midst, and drive you out, that's your business, too. But my son's wife—"

Why Cough Your

Make Your Own Cough Mixture for the Whole Family and Save Money. It's Easy.

When you can make in your own home a wonderful cough mixture far ahead of any you can buy ready made, why not do it?

This home made mixture will stop the most stubborn cough and is fine for chest colds and acute catarrh. Children love it.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Paralint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make half a pint—that's all there is to it.

Take a spoonful, heating posset or any other liquid, and you have a cough mixture that spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn cough to cough itself almost instantly. No ordinary soothing cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

Any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head aches and catarrhal discharges.

Get Paralint and get better. —Advertisement—

Goodkind reached for the knob as the door was swung open from the other side. Goodkind looked a step to admit a tall, neatly dressed, brawny man.

"Excuse me," said the intruder, politely.

Goodkind glanced at the man, then his face half lighted with recognition.

"Haven't I seen you somewhere before?" he said reflectively.

The man turned to answer.

"Yes, I think so," he said. "My name's Umanaki."

"Then he remembered. You're not the Pole who came to my house last year with a delegation?"

"Yes," said Umanaki, quietly.

"Well, I'll be—!" Goodkind surveyed him in surprise.

"Mr. Gilchrist will be stay in New York," the Pole explained. "He's teach me English and find me good job. I'll work eight hours on the dock and six on myself."

Goodkind said nothing, but he had pipe in the mouth, filling his.

"Mr. Goodkind," he said, "Umanaki has an invention. I'll show it."

"I'll see you in half an hour," came the answer and the door closed.

CHAPTER XVII

Cinderella

U MANAKI'S eyes, minus the hatred they once held, but still steady and serious, had been turned intently on Goodkind as he talked.

"What's he doing down here?" asked Umanaki with certain anxiety.

"He says he's going and he's going to shut up this place," Umanaki said as he dropped into a chair with the relaxation of one tired. "Of course, he won't."

"Don't be too sure," said the Pole, thoughtfully.

"Nonsense," returned Gilchrist. "I made him angry. And somebody told him a lot of lies."

"Somebody's told a good many people lies," said Umanaki. "Yesterday I heard a man say you run this place—to—to get women."

"I GUESS BELIEVIN' AIN'T NEVER GOIN' TO MAKE ME DANCE," SHE SAID.

"Who said that?" Daniel looked up seriously.

"A wop named Malduda."

"Oh, yes?" Daniel relaxed again. "I took his daughter in here once for a week, until he got sober."

"There's a good many like that," pursued the other.

"Not so many."

"Enough to make trouble. Why not carry a pistol?"

"It's generally men with pistols who get shot," said Gilchrist with quiet rejection.

"One of them fellow get you—"

Gilchrist put him off with a gesture as Mary Margaret came into the room.

"I suppose you ain't had any supper," she said with a mother air.

Gumbly had followed her in with a tray and the girl, leaning on her crutches, transferred its cargo to the table in front of Daniel.

Umanaki drew out a pocketbook and came alongside.

"I brought you some money," he said.

"My boss he give me another raise. He gonna make me boss after a while. So I like to begin to pay back what you lend me."

"Wait 'till you've sent for your family," he said, making no move to accept the proffered bills.

"I'm gonna send now," said Umanaki, smiling. "My boy I'm gonna send school—college, maybe. That pump I make goes fine. I show my boss like you say, because he know about coal mines, and he say if she work she save whole lots of lives and money. She work all right. He dropped the bills on the table and brought forth an English grammar from under his coat.

"How about I go upstairs and study?"

"Sure," said Gilchrist. "Go right up to my room and I'll be along after the meeting." Umanaki left Margaret Mary bending over him eagerly.

"Your supper's ready," she said.

Gilchrist had caught sight of her feet, strangely adorned.

"What's this you're wearing, golden slippers?" he queried, looking up at her.

"Gib-bub," she assented. "I took them out of the barrel of clothes that pretty lady sent." Gilchrist pulled a chair up beside her.

"Supper with Cinderella," he said, with a sweeping invitational gesture.

"Gee, I love that story," the girl said plaintively. "When you tell it to me, you make me believe I'm her." She was a careful figure, a Cinderella on crutches, a leger of life but content to ride upon wishes.

"If you believe it—you are," said Gilchrist firmly.

She looked at him pensively.

"I guess believin' ain't never going to make me dance," she said.

"You can't tell," he said. "If you believe hard enough."

"That's what you said before, and I've tried, but somehow I don't work."

Judge Miller, Well Known Here, Re-Elected To Bench

Portsmouth people are taking the same pride in the election of Fred J. Miller to the Municipal Court bench in Columbus, to succeed himself, that they would in election of a favored local candidate, for Miller is a Portsmouth product, has a number of relatives in this section and enjoys a wide acquaintance here.

Judge Fred J. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Columbus. Judge Miller left Portsmouth thirteen years ago, when his father moved with his family to Columbus. He had been raised on his father's farm at Pownessville. Since Mr. Frank Miller who was also a director in the Central National Bank of this city, left Portsmouth, the appointee was re-elected to seek re-election at the next municipal election and this he did Tuesday and proved successful over Robert J. Hearty who had the Democratic committee support and E. G. Finkel, former justice of the peace of Linden Heights, who ran independently.

Under the Columbus municipal court law, the appointee was re-elected to seek re-election at the next municipal election and this he did Tuesday and proved successful over Robert J. Hearty who had the Democratic committee support and E. G. Finkel, former justice of the peace of Linden Heights, who ran independently.

C. of C. Expresses Thanks

To those citizens who voted favorably upon the $100,000 jail levy proposition, the Chamber of Commerce, through Manager Adam Frick, has addressed the following:

"Let the Chamber express its approval and gratitude in the response of Tuesday, the electors' approving the construction of a new and modern place in which these unfortunate are to be confined following their charge of having committed an offense.

"We are quite sure that when the new structure graces the ground on which it is to be located that none will regret having assisted in providing this modification of structure, to which we refer and make both in perfect harmony."

Mrs. Anna Yates, of 712 Second street, who fell and received several bruises a few days ago, is improving.

Suspect 'Drug Ring'

In Death Mystery;
Federal Agent Busy

TUSCALOOSA, ALA., November 9.—Possibility that a "drug ring" may have been involved in the death of the woman whose charred body was found in a church for negroes which was burned here last week, is being investigated by Federal authorities. It became known today. C. M. Butler, narcotic inspector of Birmingham, joined officials of Tuscaloosa and Birmingham in running down clues in the case. Butler is said to have identified Al Winchester, held in connection with the church mystery, as a man who recently had a preliminary hearing in Birmingham on a charge of violating the narcotic laws. Winchester is under $500 bond awaiting trial on this charge. Federal authorities report. County officials in Birmingham are being aided by Butler in checking up on a woman reported missing. Jack Johnson, who was arrested in Birmingham a few days ago, still is being held for investigation.

Vigorous Old Age

Why separate youth and old age with a deep and ever-widening abyss? The bloom of youth and the hardy, ruddy glow of Old Age—sixteen and sixty—should be separated only by the span of years and not by varying differences of physical wholeness.

Vigorous old age is within the grasp of all. S. S. S. brings that hale and hearty feeling back with a rush. Rich red blood is the great enemy of weakening, health undermining Old Age. S. S. S. builds Red Blood Cells. Rich, red blood coursing through your veins sweeps away impurities that retard the proper functioning of your system. Old Age—once a dreaded agony becomes a vigorous, enjoyable, care free time of life. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks—scientifically prepared and proportioned. Welcome Old Age when it comes. Be ready to withstand the attacks of diseases that follow in its wake. Meet Old Age with a hearty handshake. A handshake that speaks of well being of a vigorous, clear thinking, red blooded constitution. S. S. S. is your best friend when Old Age is seen rounding the corner. Get a bottle and drive care and worry away. All leading drug stores carry it. The large size is the more economical.

Officials To Share Blame For Tragedy, Commission Rules

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—County commissioners of Portage county, the Rootstown Board of Education, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company must share with Louis Kline, bus driver, responsibility for the grade crossing accident October 11, at Rootstown, in which the lives of eight school children were snuffed out when a Pennsylvania train struck a school bus. Responsibility for the accident was fixed today by the Public Utilities Commission. Doubt is expressed as to whether the driver brought his bus to a full stop, as required by law, but the ruling of the commission is that any negligence on the part of the driver does not excuse the county commissioners, the board of education of Rootstown, the township trustees and the railroad company from negligence in permitting trees and shrubs to grow along the tracks in such a manner as to obstruct the view of persons approaching the crossing.

The investigation of the commission developed the board of education had not issued instructions to the drivers of its buses to come to a complete stop when approaching a crossing.

DRY LEADER DIES

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 9.—The Rev. Dr. J. Fred Heisse, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Maryland and for many years a leader in the movement for prohibition, died suddenly yesterday at his home here. He had been ill only about two weeks and a few days ago seemed to be recovering. Dr. Heisse was born in Baltimore county 60 years ago. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

POLITICAL LEADER DIES

PIQUA, OHIO, Nov. 9.—Edward J. Granger, 67, Democratic candidate for mayor, who was defeated by W. G. Crozier, Republican, in Tuesday's election, died at his home here early yesterday after a long illness. Mr. Granger was past head of the Order of Eagles and the Moose lodges.

Haynes Makes Rule Urged By Pinchot Governing Permits

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A new regulation, requiring all holders of Federal permits to handle liquor to submit them to inspection of state as well as Federal officers, was announced today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. This step to increase the powers of state authorities in prohibition enforcement was suggested by Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania in his recent correspondence with Secretary Mellon of the Treasury. Mr. Mellon promising in reply that Pennsylvania officers would be given such inspection powers. Instead of limiting the authority to Pennsylvania officers, the new regulation, which will become effective November 15, will be a nationwide evaluation.

MR. GRONINGER'S STATEMENT

O. B. Groninger, who was defeated in Tuesday election for member of City Board of Education last night issued the following statement:
"I desire to thank my friends and all who gave me their loyal support in the recent election. While defeated by a small plurality, I have the satisfaction of knowing that I came out of the contest as I entered it, free from any alliances or pledges other than the principle for which I had taken my stand—Free Text Books.

"It was on this principle that I made two fights, one in 1921, and I desired to take advantage of technicalities, I could have had my friends to write my name on the ballot to fill the unexpected term of the late Geo. D. Scudder, but I chose to fight the question on its merits and I believe that Portsmouth will yet take its place among the cities that furnish free texts to the pupils of the Public Schools. Respectively,

C. B. GRONINGER.

THE RIGHT WAY TO USE NATURAL GAS

See that your burners emit a clean blue flame. If the flame has a yellow tip, the air in-take is not properly adjusted and you are wasting gas. Adjust by opening the air shutter slowly, watching the flame until it is all blue, then tighten the screw so the air shutter can not slip.

"Popping" is usually caused by too much air. Burners should be taken out and cleaned occasionally to obtain the best results.

Plan Great Tribute For Wilson Armistice Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Friends of Woodrow Wilson are planning to make their Armistice Day tribute to him the greatest demonstration in his honor that has taken place since he became ill.

Not only will the former president's address on "The Significance of Armistice Day" be distributed by radio throughout the country on Saturday evening, but delegations from several cities and representing a number of organizations are expected to take part in the pilgrimage to his home here on Sunday.

Facilities for broadcasting the former president's Saturday evening address which will be spoken into a microphone installed in his study, are believed by radio experts to be ample to make it accessible for receiving sets in all parts of the United States. The address will be distributed by the WCAP broadcasting station in Washington on a wave length of 460 meters. At the same time it will go over a telephone wire to New York, where it will be passed through an amplifier and broadcast by WCAP on a wave length of 492 meters. Mr. Wilson is to begin speaking at 8:25 p. m., eastern time.

ber of Virginia cities have arranged to be present and take part in the celebration.

Mr. Wilson is expected to speak briefly from the front steps of his house in reply to a greeting extended on behalf of his visitors by Senator Glass of Virginia.

Duel of Fists Leads To Indictment of Duelists

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., November 9.—Two indictments for duelling have been returned by the county grand jury here as one aftermath of the mysterious sinking of a rum running schooner. Thomas Duris, a former prize fighter, and Olaf M. Anderson were indicted yesterday charged with "fighting by appointment" or duelling. Anderson's brother, John, was one of several persons lost when the steamer John Dwight sank in Vineyard Sound last April.

According to the police Anderson accused Duris of being connected with a rum running syndicate which operated the John Dwight. The men agreed to meet in a three-round bout to settle their differences. One of the contestants wore gloves, the other no gloves at all. Each had a second and the duty of another official was to keep back the crowd with a revolver.

Duris, according to the story, knocked out his opponent early in the struggle. Anderson's younger brother took up the burden at this point and knocked Duris out. Then the police arrived.

The mystery of the John Dwight's loss was never solved. Eight bodies were recovered. Reports have been received from time to time that persons known to have sailed on the vessel from Newport several days before she was lost, have been seen at Havana and other places.

Two Youths Killed In Traction Crash; Third Is Injured

NEWARK, OHIO, Nov. 9.—Ellsworth Koehler, 14, son of Dr. W. H. Koehler, medical examiner here for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and Chester Morgan, 14, were instantly killed and Harry Drumm, 15, son of Councilman William Drumm, was probably fatally injured today when an eastbound Columbus, Newark and Zanesville interurban car struck their automobile in which they were riding, at a crossing three miles east of Newark.

The boys borrowed the automobile from their school principal, W. E. Teggarden, to drive to a blacksmith shop to procure iron rings for a basketball set. They had crossed the tracks safely when the motor stalled. When the driver pressed the accelerator, he also pressed the reverse lever by mistake and the automobile ran backward onto the track. The interurban car struck the automobile squarely, demolishing it.

Ex-Dry Officer Asks His Liberty On Bail; Is Serving Sentence

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Thomas A. Delaney, former prohibition director of Wisconsin now serving a two year sentence at Leavenworth for violating the prohibition law, today asked the Supreme Court which has agreed to review his case to admit him to bail pending his decision. He also asked the court to advance the hearing of his appeal.

Unless the case is advanced it will not be reached until after Delaney is eligible for release on parole. It is contended by Delaney that he was not permitted to confront the government witnesses and that the proceedings before the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals were invalid because one of the judges was disqualified, having participated in the trial of the case in the Federal District Court.

Pimpily? Well Don't Be People Notice It—Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. See and ask.

Mr. Stokes Puts Fingers In Ears So She Wouldn't Hear

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(By the A. P.)—Final attacks on Mrs. Helen Wood Stokes, defense in the recent trial of W. E. D. Stokes, suit for divorce were half completed today by Max D. Steuer, counsel for the wealthy hotel owner.

Mr. Steuer concluded two hours of summing up his case after Samuel Steuer, Jr., counsel for Mrs. Stokes, had consumed six hours in his summation. Mrs. Stokes put her fingers in her ears as Mr. Steuer's high-pitched voice characterized Mr. Steuer's address to the jury as a downright plea to passion, prejudice and anger—and reiteration of nothing but an attempt to shame you with hatred, passion and antagonism against Stokes, with nothing but sympathy and a veil of tears for a concededly guilty defendant.

Mr. Steuer criticized his legal adversary for telling the jury a verdict against Mrs. Stokes would brand her children, injure the social position of her sister or send her white-haired mother to a premature grave. After these statements, he said, he felt he did not possess the ability to bring the jury back to a determination of the case on the evidence. He said the defense's case was built on vilification of Mr. Stokes and sympathy.

"You've got to choose between one intelligence and your sympathy," he told the jury.

Demand Her Diary.
Recalling the denials of Mrs. Stokes' witnesses that she had been at the East 35th street apartment of Edgar T. Wallace, co-respondent, Mr. Steuer continued:

"I'll show you out of the mouth of Mr. Untermyer that the defense is a recent concoction. If Mrs. Stokes had been outrageously treated she would have been able to give evidence of a most conclusive character. Mr. Untermyer told you at the beginning of the trial that she had kept a diary from childhood all through her married life.

"You men of New York, where is that diary? If that diary wasn't plastered with references to 13 East 35th street you would have had it here to read."

Wallace Is An Issue.
Mr. Steuer demanded to know why Wallace, on the stand for Mrs. Stokes, had not named the woman who said he might have been with him at the time witnesses said they had seen him with the defendant.

"But the most conspicuous thing I want to call to your attention," said Mr. Steuer, "is that no outcry has been made here as witness after witness looked at Mrs. Stokes and identified her as the woman they had seen at the Wallace apartment and other places with him. There was no outcry because they know she was guilty. Instead of coming here and admitting she had been there, and giving a reasonable excuse for their being forced to adopt the alternative of calling every witness who accused her a perjurer. They had no other course."

At the outset of his summation today, Mr. Untermyer plainly intimated that the district attorney would be asked to investigate the methods used by Mr. Stokes in obtaining evidence.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

SELECT HARDING MEMORIAL WEEK

WASHINGTON, November 9.—Plans for the observance of Harding Memorial week throughout the country from December 9 to 16 were announced today by the Harding Memorial Association.

The association recently incorporated for the purpose of providing a suitable depository for the remains of the late President and to perpetuate his home at Marion, O., opened national headquarters here today.

Exercises and services are planned for the memorial week and children are to be given a special opportunity to participate, the association announced, because of the place they held in Mr. Harding's affection.

Coolidge Heads Board.
President Coolidge heads the associations' board of trustees, which includes members of the cabinet and other government officials and friends of the late President.

A suggestion that immediate steps be taken to collect the records of the life and public career of Mr. Harding has been made to President Coolidge by Hermann Hingeborn, director of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, offering to the President a set of all issues of the New York newspapers from the day of Mr. Harding's death to the day after his funeral.

Mr. Hingeborn recounted the difficulties of the Roosevelt Memorial Association "to bring together the records of historical events after the passage of years."

Didn't Want the Job.
A teacher who was giving the children written exercises, wrote out this "Wanted" advertisement:

"Wanted—A milliner. Apply by letter to Miss Smith, 10, Blank street."
The children had to make applications for the position in writing. One youngster wrote:

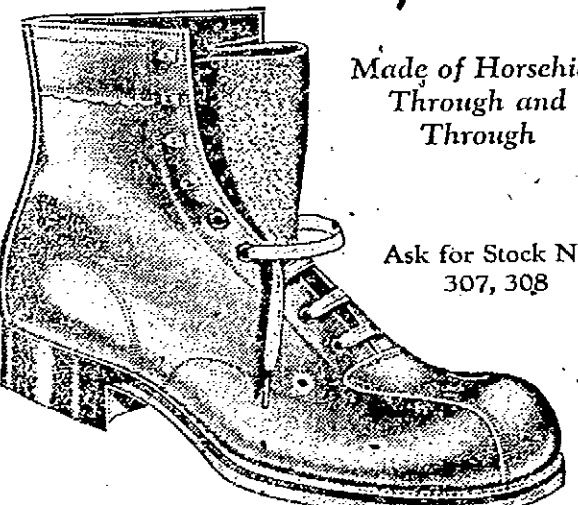

"Dear Miss Smith—I saw you want a milliner. I hate to trim hats. Can't you get somebody else? Please let me know at once.—Edith Brown."—Tilt-Bits (London).

What's Best for a Bad Stomach?

Sixty-fourths of all stomach troubles—indigestion, sourness, gas, pain, heartburn, etc., are caused by an excess of acid in the stomach. Artificial digestives, such as pepsin, are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids, and instead neutralize the acid that has upset your stomach with a spoonful or two of tablets of pure Bisurated Magnesia, taken with a little water. This instantly sweetens the stomach and stops the pain and discomfort and your food digests as nature intended. For quick positive relief from Acid Stomach.

WOLFF STORE IS AGAIN ROBBED

After removing a panel from the rear door leading to the Wolff's clothing store on Causeway, away from the light, thieves unlocked the door and had complete access to the store.

An inventory made this morning by William Hyland, manager of the store, who discovered the robbery, showed that five high grade overcoats, five suits, shoes, caps and shirts to the value of $400 had been taken.

As soon as Mr. Hyland discovered the robbery he notified the New Boston police and Devery Carson's bloodhound was brought to the scene. It struck a trail leading from the alley in the rear of the store to Center Street, but there it ended and there is no clue to the guilty persons.

The thieves evidently knew just what they needed for the winter as they picked only the best suits and overcoats, and did not disarrange the stocks to amount to anything. New Boston police are busy and hope to work up a tangible clue.

Just three months ago thieves broke into the Wolff store and stole about $200 worth of clothing. A New Boston citizen passed the Wolff store late last night and said he saw two men in it but thought they were talking stock.

War Dept. Employee Offers Strong Proof

"The Tanlac treatment is good in the fullest sense of the word," is the concise manner in which P. M. Hubbard, 319 Cameron St., Alexandria, Va., a clerk in the War Department, Washington, D. C., recently spoke of his experience with the medicine.

"For more than a year past I have suffered from a nervous, run-down condition. My digestive organs did not work right, I had little appetite, and what I did eat failed to give me proper nourishment. My rest at night was broken, my nerves un-strung, I was considerably under weight, had lost much energy and always felt more or less fatigued after I fought Tanlac on the advice of a friend and can say that it fully met my needs in every way. I now feel stronger and better by far than I have in months. I eat well and sleep well, have gained up in weight and energy and feel renewed in every way."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

Hearing Land Commission Case

When the suit of the Herley Realty Company, against William R. Micklethwait and others was called for trial in Common Pleas court Friday morning, both sides waived trial by jury and the case was submitted to Judge Thomas after it was agreed that the principal issue was a question of law, rather than fact.

The suit was brought by the plaintiff company to recover the sum of $1050 claimed to be due as a commission for sale of real estate belonging to the defendants under the terms of a listing contract, originally entered into April 7, 1923, and extended for ten days by a separate contract signed on May 7. Plaintiffs claim they sold the premises involved consisting of 65 acres on the Boulevard, to Charles V. Wertz and R. C. Spangler on May 17, for $65,000 but charge that defendants refused to go through with the deal and have since sold the real estate to their children.

The defense disclaimed all liability under the contract, contending that the alleged sale was made to Wertz and Spangler after the expiration of the option. The defense further insisted that plaintiffs exceeded their authority under the terms of the contract.

Attorneys B. F. Kimble and E. G.

Miller appeared for plaintiffs and Attorneys A. H. Johnson of Ironton, and J. E. Johnson and J. T. Micklethwait for the defense.

In her petition filed through Atty. W. L. Huestetter, the plaintiff says that the defendant has abandoned her for the association of other women, has failed to support her, and she complains that during the time she lived with him he mistreated and abused her.

I Got My Coat at Andersons'Isn't It Pretty?

Why shouldn't a little girl or a big girl be proud of one of these stylish coats that are so good looking and that button up close for warmth when the snow blows or that hang nonchalantly when the days are mild.

Little Miss Muffet or any other little Miss will not sit on a tuffet when she owns one of these pretty Velour, Broadcloth, Bolivia or Chinchilla coats for she will want to be parading it, and honestly, we don't blame her a particle for these coats, these real new-ones we mean, that have just come in, are certainly to be admired.

We have them in all ages from 1 to 16 years. In the 1-to-6 year range you can get a very pretty Broadcloth coat at $7.50.

In the 7-to-16 year range you can get a popular Velour coat at $15.98.

Madge Evans Hats Are Popular

Every girl likes a Madge Evans Hat because Madge Evans Hats are made to please girls. Every style is girlish—not womanly, and youth is expressed in every line. Then too each model has the snap and go and color and shape that girls like. Many styles at $5 to $8.50.

"Ah! That's the Overcoat I Want"

That's what a typical young American said yesterday when he slipped his arms into the sleeves of one of our new models in boys' overcoats. We think it was because of the snap and dash and general style of the coat and his Dad sanctioned the buying of it and we think that was because Dad saw that the material was A Number One and would give mighty good service. So with one coat we pleased both Dad and son.

We can probably please any boy and any parent with this line of Overcoats. Some are Chinchilla at $6.50 and $7.50 and some are Cassimere at $7.50 to $12.50. Many have belts in the back, like the men's styles and some are made with the new raglan sleeves. Ages 2 to 18 years.

Perhaps It's a Mackinaw You Want

All right then here they are in plaids or plains and they are mighty popular with school boys. Good and warm and they'll take a lot of punishment. Ages 8 to 18 years and priced at $7.50, $10 and $12.50.

"The Days of Real Sport"

To the boys, they are the days when they know they are wearing suits that won't rip and tear every time they happen to slide down a particularly inviting cellar door or take a notion to shimmy up an apple tree. Boys like clothes that stand the "gaff" for they don't like to come home with a snagged place in their pants, your opinion to the contrary notwithstanding.

And we submit that if you clothe your boy in Andersons' two-pant suits you will find that you as parents will not only be better satisfied but the boy will be delighted.

All wool suits, each with two pairs of knickers.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Goal Is 100

Another busy session was held last night by Portsmouth Council No. 33, Jr. O. U. A. M. when eleven applications were received, seven candidates favorably balloted upon and plans discussed for the big class ceremony to be held on November 21, and a memorial and Thanksgiving service to be held on November 18.

The number accepted for the big class of 100 has reached 43. By the 21st the members hope to have the remaining 57 ready to receive degree work.

The seven accepted are Walter C. Hines, Ernest S. Finney, Samuel McRoberts, Plummer Jamison, Clarence McGinnis, Albert E. Spaldin and Edward Thomas.

A banquet at 8:30 o'clock in Junior Order Hall will open the rally being arranged for November 24, when the 100-member class will be initiated. State officials of the order will be on hand. Members of the order expect to bring in enough candidates this week to more than fill the self-assigned quota of 100. The committee in charge of arranging the big affair has as members Frank H. Schmidt, E. Pierson Jefferson Casey and D. W. Kricker.

Plans were also completed at last night's meeting for a joint Memorial and Thanksgiving service, to be held the evening of November 18 in the First Christian Church with Rev. Gerald Culbertson in charge. Members of the committee in charge of this affair are Oscar Toll and J. E. Young.

To Teach Local Class

Colonel Z. T. Vinson, long recognized as one of the most proficient Bible school teachers in West Virginia, is going to reveal his skill along this line to the adult class of the First Christian Church when he will have charge of it Sunday morning. He, no doubt, will be greeted by a large class, as he will have an interesting message to deliver. He teaches a men's class in Huntington, and it is one of the largest Bible classes in West Virginia.

Patriotic Services

At Second Church

Sunday, Armistice Day, will be observed in the Second Presbyterian church by devoting the church and Sunday school services to programs of a patriotic nature. Members of the American Legion have been invited to attend these services and all those who desire to express their patriotism in a service of worship. A most cordial invitation is extended. Harold Clayton, commander of the American Legion of this city, and a quartette of the Legion are to have charge of the opening exercises of the boys and girls' department of the Sunday school on that day.

Rev. Evans has chosen for his theme at the morning services: "The Value of Memory" and in the evening: "The Spirit of America." The anthem, "Onward Christian Soldiers" and a memorial song "Tenderly Now We Remember Our Heroes" by Mr. Harry Denton, and the choir, will be sung at the morning services. At the evening services the choir will sing: "Come Unto Me."

Girl Given Home Missing; Also Ring and Lingerie

Authorities are working on the case of a light-fingered girl giving her name as Nancy Elizabeth Morton, who left the home of Mrs. Clayton Platt, of 421 Third street, taking with her a diamond ring, a hat and a jacket suit belonging to Mrs. Platt's daughter, four large sheets from the Platt linen supply, a shirt and lingerie belonging to other roomers in the Platt home, according to Mrs. Platt.

Representing that she had been employed in a local store but had left her job because of familiarities on the part of another worker the Morton girl worked on the sympathy of Mrs. Platt, who took her in and allowed her to live in her home, rent free, for ten days.

The girl claimed that she had relatives in Greenup and an uncle in Russell from whom she was expecting funds. She had a ten dollar bill with which she paid a local taxi to take her to the station.

Telling Mrs. Platt that she was going to take a taxi to New Boston and at that point take a trolley for Russell to get money, she drove to the railroad station here instead. A local taxi company reports that she had a ten dollar bill with which she paid her fare.

That was the last seen of the girl who said her name was Morton, and robbed the woman who had enacted the role of a Good Samaritan.

Cross for his consoling words, and the singers, also friends for the use of their cars and for the many beautiful floral offerings.

Senator Colby Reveals Inner Workings Of the League of Nations to Kiwanians

Upwards of seventy-five Kiwanians and virtually every member of the Ministerial Association, were present at the noon-day luncheon of the Kiwanis club held at the Mary Louise Friday noon, and for more than forty minutes were thrilled by an address by Senator Everett Colby of New Jersey, who gave first-hand information concerning the inner workings of the League of Nations, and who painted a picture that was in direct contrast to the generally accepted theory so prevalent in this country.

Senator Colby, who was introduced by Rev. B. F. Lamb, former resident of this city, and who is now a member of the executive committee of Ohio State Federated Churches, is one of the most prominent Republicans in the country. He was a member of the National Republican Committee in 1916 and was a member of the platform committee in the National Convention that nominated Mr. Harding for president. At the present time he is devoting his entire attention to the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association and is chairman of the executive committee.

Attack Man; Throw

Him Into Field

TOLEDO, O., November 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Police are searching for several men who attacked Thomas Meehan, 26, Tuesday night, slugged him and threw his body into a cornfield. He lay unconscious until Thursday night when he was found by a policeman. He was taken to a hospital where he died a short time later. Besides suffering from injuries to his head, Meehan was nearly frozen by being exposed to the wintry winds for more than forty-eight hours. No motive has been found for the attack.

Wednesday evening Elizabeth McCoy, Eliza Adams, Mildred Meadows, Tolly and Rudolph Smith, local high school students, being possessed by the spirit of Halloween, decided to play a prank on Charles Carson, who had parked his horse and buggy in front of John Rheinfrank's store, on Main street. They unhitched the horse and drove to Jasper, making the trip at a high rate of speed, according to the version of the story given by residents of that village. Everything went well for the young adventurers until they reached the Jasper church.

When the buggy turned over an embankment and spilled the occupants out onto mother earth. The buggy was completely demolished, but the occupants escaped with a few minor bruises. It is said that the horse was left at the scene of the accident and that Carson did not learn of the whereabouts of his steed until the next morning.

The Halloween revelers were brought to Piketon in George Leis's machine, as he happened to be spending the evening with friends in Jasper and heard of the predicament of his scholastic.

Thursday morning Carson placed the case in the hands of Chief of Police C. A. Markham, who soon ferreted out the case and learned the names of the parties connected with it. Plat Is Not Approved; Suit In Mandamus Filed By Sikes

As a sequel to the alleged failure of an attempt to secure approval of the county commissioners of a plat of land near Sciotoville, and to secure its transfer by County Auditor, suit in mandamus was begun in common pleas court this afternoon by Atty. Frank L. Sikes, agent for Alva C. Stockham, against County Surveyor Charles Noel, Commissioners John B. Bennett, Joseph H. Appel and W. O. Shively, and County Auditor Roy H. Coburn. A writ in mandamus is sought to compel the surveyor and the commissioners to approve of the plat and a similar writ to compel transfer of the lots by the county auditor, upon the tax duplicates of the county.

The petition alleges: "On Monday, the 5th day of November, 1923, a plat duly made and acknowledged by Alva C. Stockham, was presented to the County Commissioners for acceptance; that the plat was filed with the County Surveyor for his approval, the same being a requirement by the County Commissioners before their acceptance; that the county surveyor and county commissioners have failed and refused to accept the plat.

"That on Wednesday, the 7th day of November, 1923, the plat was presented to Roy Coburn, county auditor, for transfer, and the legal fee

WEST WILL FACE TRIAL HERE

William H. West lost out in his fight at Harrisburg, Pa., against being returned to Ohio to answer to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, as the prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Harry M. Dunham yesterday and he arrived home today noon with the accused.

West, as head of the West Producing Company, which staged an indoor circus in Portsmouth last May under the auspices of the Grout, is accused of having defrauded John Massa and other local men out of $3,500 by procuring their signatures to a joint note under false representations in connection with his ownership of certain personal property.

Following the arrest of West in the Pennsylvania capital a couple weeks ago he made a vigorous fight to prevent his return here to answer to the charge and for a time secured his release under habeas corpus proceedings on the ground that an effort was being made to extradite him to collect a civil debt. His application on being heard was denied by the court yesterday and the prisoner was ordered turned over to the Scioto county officer.

PIMPLES ITCHED AND BURNED

All Over Face, Hard and Red. Lost Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My face was badly disfigured with pimples which often caused embarrassment. They were hard and red and were scattered all over my face. The pimples itched and burned and at night I could not sleep on account of the irritation. The trouble lasted about a year and a half."

"I tried many different remedies but they all failed. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some and after using them I got relief. I continued using them and now I am completely healed." (Signed) Miss Alice Bateman, 4140 Storer Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

CHILlicothe HI IN FINE TRIM TO BATTLE WITH P. H. S.

CHILlicothe, Ohio, Nov. 9.—One night of good hard scrimmage was had Wednesday by the high school gridiron warriors and they expect to have another tonight. The second team with Towner and Rowan in the lineup is the one which is opposing the regulars. Wednesday night it took the offense using Portsmouth plays and formation. Thursday night, the first team will be the offense and the second team will use Portsmouth's main defense formation that is with one of the tackles dropping back into the secondary defense, making five men there and leaving but six men on the line.

This game promises to be one of the closest battles of the season for both teams and will probably draw one of the biggest crowds. Portsmouth is expected to bring between 300 and 400 spectators with them in addition to the school band. Tickets have been selling well locally so a very large crowd is expected.

The change of time should not be forgotten as you are liable to miss some of the game. It will begin promptly at two o'clock Saturday afternoon at Meaco field.

The P. H. S. eleven may be without the services of Captain William Ellsesser Saturday, due to injuries sustained in last Saturday's game at Jackson. He is nursing a wrenched knee, which has been growing worse the last few days. An X-ray was taken yesterday.

JOINT-EASE for Stiff, Swollen Joints Rheumatic or Otherwise

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Aches Get Out"

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make a creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need lubricating.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and carries the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at Fisher and Storch Pharmacy, and druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.—Advertisement.

Miss Jessie Lambert as hostesses. The guests had all assembled, they were given instructions to talk one minute on the topic suggested on the slip. Some of the topics were humorous and naturally created much amusement for the listeners.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dole on the first Wednesday of December at which time their annual meeting party will be held. Thoughts on "The Life of Christ" will be the topic for December. Refreshments of sandwiches, fruit salad and coffee were served to the following guests: Mrs. W. E. THE SWING OF THE PENDULUM

ALBERTA province, Canada, after seven years trial of absolute prohibition, voted, Tuesday, to return to the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, under government control. The exact plan is not stated in the telegraphic dispatches, but it is inferred the voters of Alberta have declared for a system by which the government will become the actual dispenser.

With this, the third of the Canadian provinces to abandon prohibition as an outgrowth of war extremity, agitation for repeal or modification of some sort may be expected to take on additional impetus in the United States.

It is scarcely likely that the Canadian plan, making a saloon-keeper of the government, will have any strong appeal to Americans, at least those who are seeking some means of promoting sobriety.

Direct governmental control in this nation would be a failure and a scandal from its inception. Bartenders, chosen under the direction of congressmen and politicians would be a holy fright, worse than the ruffians and bribe-takers that swarm and sell in the army of enforcers. Grafting and fraud would hold high carnival and the country, like the man from whom the devil was cast and then returned with seven worse than himself, would be insufferably worse.

No, there's too much of politics in the liquor issue now and the worst evil that could come to make it solely a matter of partisanship, of which governmental proprietorship would be the foundation.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Van Cortlandt park. The uptown playground. West Indians playing cricket. And speaking with an English accent. Children driving goats tandem. The pond filled with waiting storks. Wonder which one carried me.

Winding road. Giant elms. Open spaces. Yet only the golf course is busy. The Harlem river. Flat boats and dredges. Paint-chipped old water houses. Scrap iron heaps. Barge women washing while their husbands' fish and smoke pipes.

Coogan's Bluff. And a few tin can shanties left. Moving dogs that live in the hills. Signs heralding "Wanted for Murder." Tent revivals. There's the Yankee Stadium. And the sudden leap from poverty to the Grand Concourse. The palatial home of Lieutenant Becker. Flatiron tenement buildings. Here and there a grimy camp. Covered wagons supplanted by flivvers. Ford college and the Bronx zoo. A camel is being incanted at the gates. Also a box of snakes.

Wonder whatever became of my alligator. There's swank—a ducky wearing pearl gloves and derby. Portable blacksmith shops. Italians with rings in their ears selling statues in shops. Battered at each door, they smile and go on. And eventually own a home on the Drive. Such is the virtue of patience.

Who pays for New York's luncheonable parades? And why should I worry about that? I wish I could turn a dollar. Nearly every other store is a delicatessen shop. A tribute to shiftless wives who glutant all day and serve cold dinners.

Upper Seventh Avenue. Cool little courtyards. Where strolling musicians reap a harvest of pitched pennies. Sidewalks shouting with children. And gutters filled with old newspapers and fruit rinds. The entrance to Central Park. Now for a bench and a pipe.

It seems to me the kindest clerks to be found in New York are the aged men who wait on customers at the watch repair departments of big jewelry establishments. In a town of these recently I found that with few exceptions they were silver haired men and almost stooped from bending over work benches. There is an old fashioned pride in their calling. They are rather slow moving but they attend to your wants in a highly satisfactory way. They offer a great relief from the snappy clerks one usually finds behind other counters.

MAN SHOT; GUN USER HELD

Ray Davis, better known as "Smoke" Davis, about 25 years old, and a resident of Valley street, North Moreland addition, back of New Boston, lies in Schirman hospital, his legs and right arm paralyzed, the result of a bullet wound suffered last night when in the New Boston hotel when William S. Herndon, clerk in the hotel sent a bullet through the young man's neck and left shoulder. Herndon was immediately arrested by New Boston village officers but later gained his release on a $5,000 bond. He will be required to face a charge of shooting with intent to kill, to which he entered a plea of not guilty last night before Mayor W. E. Newberry.

Davis has been employed as mechanic in the New Boston Garage, Ohio and Rhodes, avenue, New Boston. Herndon claims that when he came into the hotel last night Davis caused him to stop drinking and he asked him to use the washroom. Herndon directed him to the rear of the building. Herndon claims that when Davis came back from the washroom he knocked on the door of a guest room and that he stopped him by yelling at him. Herndon says that Davis resented his stopping him and walked towards the front of the room and made a move as to climb over a cigar case to get behind the counter. Herndon says he did not mean to allow Davis to get close to him and so picked up a gun under the counter and after warning Davis to stop fired one shot. The bullet served its purpose for Davis stopped and fell backwards to the floor. He was rushed to the office of Dr. Harold Schirman at New Boston and was later removed to the hospital where an x-ray was taken to determine if the spine had been injured. The x-ray showed that the bullet had entered Davis' neck on the right side, and ranged downward coming out the back under the left shoulder.

The bullet had struck a vertebra injuring nerves controlling the legs and right arm. Fifteen hundred units of anti-tetanus were administered to prevent possible development of lockjaw.

Police News

Lack of convincing evidence, the complaint in the case of Roy Lewis, colored, proprietor of a restaurant at Eleventh and John streets, accused of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of $37 from Willard A. Farabee, was dismissed by Judge McCall in Municipal court today. After Farabee missed his money and complained to the police, the cash was returned to him, it was said.

Napier, 1304 Center street, N. & W. engineer, to two checks in the sum of $13.50 and $4.40, was held to the common pleas court under bond of $400, following his preliminary hearing in municipal court today.

Material Evidence

"Do you like art?"
"How can you ask? I'm crazy about it. Did you ever see my collection of colored souvenir postcards?"

Their Opinion

"The distinguished visitor to the district school had already spoken at considerable length when he said to the pupils, whose attention had begun to wander, 'And now I want to tell you of a boy I once knew. He had a good father and mother and they did all that lay in their power to make him happy. But the boy was selfish; he frittered away his time and never thought of the future.'"

"Today, instead of filling an honorable position in life, where do you suppose he stands, children, as a man?"

"He stands before us!" was the shrill chorus of the boys and girls.

Friendship's Victim
"Archie's condition is extremely grave."

"I thought he only had a cold."

"He did, but he took all the remedies his friends prescribed."

The Detriment
"How do you find married life by this time?" the benefactor was asked.

"While I was courting and only went to the house part of the time," was the reply, "my prospective father-in-law appeared so resigned that I was quite comfortable. But now that he is my father-in-law, in fact and I am living on him all the time, he acts so contrary that he makes it very disagreeable for me."

Efficiency
"You seem to have a pretty good fire company here," commented a traveling salesman as the hook and ladder company went racing by on the way to a blaze.

"You bet!" triumphantly replied the landlord of the tavern at Waverly street. "They make just as much noise at a little fire as at a big one. They ain't no respecters of holocausts."

Cause For Depression
"What is Sag Peters looking so glum about?"

"Well, Sag's havin' considerable trouble, replied the owner of the Singsong Bargain Emporium to the cigar salesman. "Yes, Sag, he's the constable, and at the last election the woman up and elected his wife mayor of the town, an' she's holdin' back his salary to make him pay for some new furniture that he's been promisin' her ever since they were married."

A Sign of Relief

Jay: "As far as you like."
